"More than 40 years ago, my husband Dr. Robert Atkins, a respected cardiologist, pioneered and championed the health and longevity benefits of a nutritional lifestyle grounded in good fats, protein, and moderate to lower carbohydrates. Dr. Fred Pescatore was a very valued and respected member of Dr. Atkins's team, helping patients to feel and look great while improving their health. Dr. Pescatore's commitment to a healthy nutritional lifestyle has remained steadfast through the years. To this day, his passion for medicine and nutrition continues to benefit his patients and readers."

From the Inside Flap

The Scientific Weight-Loss Plan Celebrities Use--Tailored Specifically to You

You probably know eating protein and vegetables and avoiding white carbs--the basis for Paleo, Atkins, and other low-carb diet plans--is the gold standard for staying lean and thin. I built a tremendously successful plan on this concept with my New York Times bestseller The Hamptons Diet. Nutritional science has evolved rapidly since then, and I have worked with thousands of patients--including many celebrities--to help them lose weight and get healthy using the latest scientific advances.

Through much research, I've figured out the key to giving my celebrity clientele the best results from a high-protein lifestyle--protein boosting with a blend of amino acids designed specifically for them. Now, I'm sharing these same tools with you. My A-list solution removes the common barriers to weight loss and gives you all you will need for weight loss success--and optimal long-term health.

The A-List Diet goes beyond Atkins, beyond the Hamptons and South Beach, beyond Virgin, beyond Zero Belly, beyond Wheat Bell, and beyond Paleo. I have been in practice for more than 20 years, and the A-List Diet gives the most amazing results that I have seen in my entire career. Let's get started! --Dr. Fred Pescatore
